

STEM Camp Newsletter

Vol. 2

Summer 2024

Announcements:

STEM Camp is open normal hours on July 4!

We do our best to accommodate buddy requests. However, due to age groupings and other factors, this isn't always possible. STEM Campers swim every Friday! Please send a bathing suit and towel in a bag.

This Week:

This Week's Theme: Eco-Detectives

Week # 2 Spectacular Scientists

Purple Parrots
Leia B.

Orange Iguanas
Callen H.

Blue Barracudas
Angela D.

Green Monkeys
Ivy T.

Red Jaguars

This Week's Highlights:

This past week our campers engaged in a STEM-based mystery. After each group built its fictional city, they put on their detective hats to determine what was causing a series of strange events within their cities.

Looking Ahead:

Week 3: Blast Off!

*"It's definitely rocket science!"
Campers leap into orbit this week by exploring rocket-powered flight, building and launching rockets, exploring our galaxy, and engaging in a series of engineering challenges to tackle the conundrum of sustaining life in space!*

Staff Spotlight:

This week we will meet the Purple Parrots team:
Lizzie and Miles.

Lizzie writes, "I was a counselor last year, and I am so excited to be an instructor this year! I'm studying chemical engineering at Michigan. I love biking and being outside during the summer!"

"Hello! My name is Miles, I am studying chemistry at MSU with a pre-med focus. Some of my favorite hobbies are my car and cycling. I'm excited to be helping out and sharing my love for STEM."
